

Dear

I've heard through Elf whispers that you're a kind and helpful soul. I need your assistance, I have a very important role.

As Santa's head husky, I have my paws completely full. My tail's not stopped wagging (and it's been a while since I've chased a ball).

I help Santa and his elf team in so many different ways - and this year I'm in charge of maintaining the Christmas sleigh.

Christmas is in trouble, the sleighs failed it's MOT. It needs some important parts, and now it's really down to me...

Without the sleigh, it's crackers for Christmas - no more stockings or gifts... Santa will have to send IOU's, the magic of Christmas missed.

The parts I need are around the world, hidden high and low - but there's only one of me, and lots of places to go!

Do you think you could lend your time and join me on this adventure? I know we can do it, if we only work together!

The journey starts at Tapnell Farm Park, your adults know the rest..

Thank you in advance, you really are THE BEST!

Big licks and tummy rubs

Love, Hollie the Husky xx
